

Treasury Department,

BUREAU OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., 25th Feb, 1886.

Personal
 Hon. Daniel M. Fox

My dear Sir:

There seems no recourse at present from the Comptroller's decision with regard to the responsibility for the missing bars.

I suppose the relief to Dr. Booth will be by a bill introduced in Congress which I shall be glad to favor. It should be carefully prepared as a

briefly set forth the circumstances of the case which tend to relieve the M. I. R. from any moral responsibility in the case.

Very yours
J. H. Mitchell

Treasury Department
February 25. 1886

James P. Kimball.
Director.

Relative to the Three Missing Bars.

Recd. Feby 26. '86.

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 138

[Abstract:] Relative to the three missing Bars.

Personal

Treasury Department,
Bureau of the Mint,
Washington, D.C.
February 25, 1886

Hon. Daniel M. Fox

My dear Sir:

There seems no recourse at present from the Comptroller's decision with regard to the responsibility for the 3 missing bars.

I suppose the relief to Dr. Booth will be by a bill introduced in Congress which I shall be glad to favor. It should be carefully prepared as to briefly set forth the circumstances of the case which tend to relieve the M & R from any moral responsibility for the case.

Truly yours,
Jas. P. Kimball